

Diversity and equalities statement

The Neuro Linguistic Psychotherapy Counselling Association (NLPtCA) promotes an active engagement with difference and therefore seeks to provide a framework for members that allows competing and diverse ideas and perspectives on what it means to be human to be considered, respected and valued.

NLPtCA is committed to addressing issues of prejudice and discrimination in relation to the mental well being, political belief, gender and gender identity, sexual preference or orientation, disability, marital or partnership status, race, nationality, ethnic origin, heritage identity, religious or spiritual identity, age or socio-economic class of individuals and groups.

NLPtCA keeps its policies and procedures under review in order to ensure that the realities of discrimination, exclusion, oppression and alienation that may form part of the experience of its members as well as of their clients are addressed appropriately. NLPtCA seeks to ensure that the practice of NLPt is utilised in the service of the celebration of human difference and diversity, and that at no time is NLPt used as a means of coercion or oppression of any group or individual.

All members are directed to the resources and links on the UKCP equality, diversity and inclusion webpage at <https://www.psychotherapy.org.uk/news-and-events/equality-diversity-and-inclusion/>